Title:	SIG Financial Mathematics Award
Award Type:	Prize
Programme Description:
Long Description:	Susquehanna International Group (SIG) is a global quantitative trading term built on a rigorous, analytical foundation in financial markets. Susquehanna International Group award an annual prize to the Financial Mathematics student who obtains the highest mark in the module, Advanced Computational Finance, ACM30070 if the award is at least 70. In the event of a tie, the prize will be split between the two students.
Value:	250