

Title:	James B. Coakley Medal for Dissection
Award Type:	Medal
Programme Description:
Long Description:	This medal is in appreciation of James B. Coakley who was Professor of Anatomy from 1962 to 1988. This award has been established in the Anatomy Division of the Department of Human Anatomy and Physiology. Medical, Physiotherapy and Radiography students, who have completed one year of Anatomy, can enter for this award. The medal will be awarded annually for the best dissection of an assigned specimen carried out by a student during the academic year. This award is open to Medicine and Graduate Entry to Medicine students. Eligible to students in Programmes: BHMED001, BHMED007, BHMED008. Only one application permitted per student (repeat applications per student in subsequent years not permitted)
Value:	