

Title:	FBD Trust Health and Safety Award
Award Type:	Award
Programme Description:
Long Description:	All Stage 2 students currently registered to an undergraduate degree in the School of Agriculture and Food Science must undertake the module entitled Health, Welfare & Safety in Agriculture (RDEV20140). The module objectives of developing greater awareness and knowledge of health and safety issues related to agriculture, the food industry and associated areas lends itself well to FBD's commitment to promoting health and safety in agriculture. The FBD Trust, a charitable entity which provides funding for education, has recently funded the new position of FBD Lecturer in Farm Health & Safety in the UCD School of Agriculture & Food Science. The FBD Trust now wishes to award a number of students on an annual basis to champion health and safety in agriculture, food and nutrition, and to demonstrate best practice and strive for excellence in this area. Students who receive this award must agree to champion Health and Safety for the following year until the next awards are granted. Eligibility Criteria Candidates eligible for this Award must be in Stage 2 and registered to a BAgrSc or BSc Food Science or BSc Human Nutrition programme on a full time basis in the UCD School of Agriculture and Food Science and have undertaken the Health, Welfare & Safety in Agriculture (RDEV20140) module. Three awards are available and these will be awarded according to the group break down within the module (RDEV20140). <ul style="list-style-type: none">* Two will be awarded to Group 1 (Animal and Crop Production, Food and Agribusiness Management, Animal Science, Animal Science (Equine), Dairy Business, Agri-Environmental Sciences, and Horticulture Landscape and Sportsturf Management)* One will be awarded between Group 2 (Forestry students) and Group 3 (Human Nutrition and Food Science students). Awarding criteria will be based on a combination of highest module mark (RDEV20140) attained and subsequent interview. Six students within group 1 and three students within group 2 and/or 3 who obtained the highest module mark will be selected for interview. The interview will be conducted by a panel to include at least one UCD School of Agriculture and Food Science academic staff member, one FBD Trust representative and one external evaluator.
